

Emmanuel Moulin Director-General of the Treasury, from 2 November 2020

Emmanuel Moulin joined the French Treasury as deputy head of the transport office from 1996 to 1998. He was in charge of cash management in the Debt Management Office from 1998 to 2000.

He was appointed Alternate Director of the World Bank in Washington in 2000 before becoming Secretary General of the Paris Club from 2003 to 2005.

In 2006, he became senior banker at Citigroup, in charge of the public sector for France and Belgium.

In 2007, he was appointed Deputy Chief of Staff to Christine Lagarde, Minister of Economy, Finance and Industry, where he was in charge of macro-economic policy, financial and European and international affairs.

He joined the Presidency of the Republic in June 2009 as economic advisor to President Nicolas Sarkozy. After leaving the Elysée Palace in May 2012, he joined the Eurotunnel group as Deputy CEO.

In February 2015, he became Managing Director of the investment bank Mediobanca.

He has been Chief of Staff to the Minister of the Economy, Finance and Economic Recovery since May 2017.

Emmanuel Moulin graduated from ENA in 1996. He also holds a degree from Sciences-Po, Essec and University of Paris II. ●